CONCLUSION

The two-day hands-on workshop provided participants with valuable knowledge and practical skills in systematic review and bibliometric analysis. By the end of the workshop, participants gained a deeper understanding of the methodologies involved in conducting systematic reviews and performing bibliometric analyses, as well as the tools and techniques available for data collection, analysis, and visualization. Overall, the workshop was well-received by the participants, who expressed appreciation for the opportunity to enhance their research skills in these important areas. In addition to the structured sessions on systematic review and bibliometric analysis, the workshop featured interactive components that fostered engagement and collaboration among participants. Throughout the program, ample opportunities were provided for open discussions, where participants could share their experiences, challenges, and insights related to conducting systematic reviews and bibliometric analyses. These discussions not only enriched the learning experience but also facilitated the exchange of ideas and best practices among participants from diverse research backgrounds. Moreover, a dedicated Q&A session was held at the end of each session, allowing participants to seek clarification on specific topics, address doubts, and explore practical issues encountered in their own research projects. The Q&A sessions served as valuable forums for participants to interact directly with the facilitators and gain personalized guidance on various aspects of systematic review and bibliometric analysis.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We would like to extend our gratitude to the facilitators and organizers of the workshop for their valuable contributions, as well as to all the participants for their active participation and enthusiasm throughout the two days.

FUTURE DIRECTIONS

In the future, we plan to organize similar workshops on advanced topics in research methodology and analysis to further support the professional development of researchers and scholars in our community.
